Heart: A History - Sandeep Jauhar 2018-09-18

The bestselling author of Intern and Doctored tells the story of the thing that makes us tick. For centuries, the human heart seemed beyond our understanding: an inscrutable shuddering mass that was somehow the driver of emotion and the seat of the soul. As the cardiologist and bestselling author Sandeep Jauhar shows in Heart: A History, it was only recently that we demolished age-old taboos and devised the transformative procedures that have changed the way we live. Deftly alternating between key historical episodes and his own work, Jauhar tells the colorful and little-known story of the doctors who risked their careers and the patients who risked their lives to know and heal our most vital organ. He introduces us to Daniel Hale Williams, the African American doctor who performed the world's first open heart surgery in Gilded Age Chicago. We meet C. Walton Lillehei, who connected a patient's circulatory system to a healthy donor's, paving the way for the heart-lung machine. And we encounter Wilson Greatbatch, who saved millions by inventing the pacemaker—by accident. Jauhar deftly braids these tales of discovery, hubris, and sorrow with moving accounts of his family's history of heart ailments and the patients he's treated over many years. He also confronts the limits of medical technology, arguing that future progress will depend more on how we choose to live than on the devices we invent. Affecting, engaging, and beautifully written, Heart: A History takes the full measure of the only organ that can move itself.

Trayectorias históricas de la enfermería - Deibys Carrasquilla Baza 2020-04-20

La historia de la enfermería es un tema que se ha convertido en parte importante del quehacer del área en el ámbito educativo y de la investigación, toda vez que analiza y describe el desarrollo de los procesos que han permitido su constitución como campo de conocimiento. En este libro se presentan resultados inéditos sobre el pasado reciente de la profesión y la experiencia educativa en dos ciudades que no cuentan con referentes históricos documentados. Con ello, se posibilita la comprensión de los procesos recientes relacionados con la práctica profesional, la educación y las representaciones de la enfermería desarrollada en las últimas dos décadas. De esta forma, se logra dar un paso más allá de los contenidos históricos hacia otras facetas del ámbito de la enfermería. Adicionalmente, una de las motivaciones para escribir este documento fue la ausencia del registro histórico de las actividades y prácticas asociadas con el desarrollo de la profesión, que en diferentes segmentos del libro se presenta como una enfermería apócrifa. Este es un libro que busca llegar tanto a investigadores y estudiantes, como a todo aquel interesado por la enfermería. Pensando en ello, se han incluido apartes para el lector principiante que desconoce la profesión o que apenas se aproxima a ella. Así, puede ser tomado como base para futuras investigaciones, así como para fines didácticos.

EUROHIS - A. Nosikov 2003

The EUROHIS project has focused on the comparability of health surveys and has uncovered some of the problems that arise when attempts are made to compare data from different countries. Of course, similar problems of cross-cultural comparability also arise when comparing data from other sources, such as health registers, and are just as complex and difficult to tackle. One of the main advantages of health surveys, however, is the relatively low cost and time involved in adapting them according to the needs of health policy-makers. The output from the EUROHIS project provides researchers and policy-makers with a set of recommended common instruments for the measurement of eight health indicators. The development of these instruments has required careful consideration of relevant common concepts and how these should be defined and operationalized. The instruments are freely available for use by all countries, with the aim of enhancing national health information systems and facilitating cross-national comparisons of health data.
