Youth Ministry Across the Continents - Fraser Keay 2021-11-26
Youth pastors in other countries have things they can teach us. It can also help open our eyes to see how God is working in other nations. This second edition of Youth Ministry Across the Continents now features local church youth pastors from all six continents, a compilation of stories and insights from youth workers who have been ministering to young people for many years. New contributors include people from Japan, Chile, and a large church in Ohio, USA that has grown as a home group-based ministry for more than 30 years. Readers can compare and contrast the advice of seasoned youth pastors across the globe on the same youth ministry topics. Some of the differences in approach and style reflect personality, and some reflect culture; others are to do with the church or denomination the youth worker belongs to, be it Presbyterian, Pentecostal, Anglican, Baptist, Independent

Evangelical, or Assemblies of God. Core issues covered include how to look after your own soul, evangelism, schools work, parents, and the youth pastor's vital relationship with their supervisor, often the senior pastor, minister or associate pastor. In addition to being organised by topic and not contributor, end-of-chapter discussion questions better enable readers to personally reflect, or share their thoughts with others, on the key issues. Read alongside a book like Operation World by Jason Mandryk and Patrick Johnstone, youth workers can also consider what God is doing in each of the countries they are reading about. The book would make informative compulsory or additional reading for a youth ministry or missions class, helping to expand the students' view of the world. It offers wonderful nuggets of wisdom and supplies a broad range of perspectives while reinforcing principles common to youth work across the globe. Inspiring, practical and educational, this book provides readers with ideas and situations they may have never considered. As veteran youth worker and professor, Len Kageler, writes in the foreword, "I had several 'I never thought of that' moments as I read along." So, grab yourself 150 years' worth of international youth work experience - all in one book!

Marriage - Noyo Anthonia Kubeyinje-Edem 2013-09
Marriage is the most important institution God created and ordained as a ministry for men to dominate, procreate, replenish, and multiply on earth. Satan recognizes the importance of this institution in fulfilling our ministry purposes on earth and has attacked the marriage institution right from the beginning. The Book of Genesis recounts how Satan tempted Adam and Eve and they sinned against God and were driven out of the Garden of Eden. Although Adam and Eve sinned against God, God drove them out of Eden as one united couple in their fallen state. Adam and Eve remained united outside of Eden and the Bible did not give an account that they were ever separated or divorced from one another. The marriage institution has continued to struggle under the corrupt influence of our human flesh and the world system and many good people have separated and divorced from their spouses. The family needs to be awakened to the attack on this institution and ensure that it regains its rightful position in God's plan to reconcile mankind to himself. Therefore we must ensure that we do not allow the enemy to destroy this institution. This book explores God's plan for the marriage institution and upholds biblical principles of love, forgiveness, respect, family unity and dependence on God to build our homes. The book depicts that God intends that our marriages remain united even in crisis because separation and divorce are not included in God's plan for our marriages. The reader will understand that marital storms do not break marriages, but they strengthen homes that depend on God to help them. People learn from their experiences and continue to work with God to build loving, nurturing and stable homes for themselves and their children. Deaconess Noyo Anthonia Kubeyinje-Edem is a born again Christian, an ordained minister of God and founder of Hope for the Family, Inc. Hope for the Family is a Christian Outreach Ministry based in Linden, NJ. Noyo Anthonia Kubeyinje-Edem taught in the Children's Ministry as a Sunday school teacher for 17 years at Upper Room Baptist Church, Ketu, Lagos, Nigeria, The Love of Jesus Family Church Orange, New Jersey and RCCG Agape House of Worship, Roselle, NJ. She and her husband currently serve in the Ushers/Greeters Ministry at the Love of Jesus Family Church, Orange, New Jersey. The author lives in Linden, NJ with her husband, Deacon Etinwa-Okon Edem, and their children. The author has been married for almost 27 years and has worked extensively with families. These books were published by Xulon Press in 2012 and 2013. Ten Lies The Church Tells Women - J Lee Grady 2013-07-29 The gospel was never intended to restrain women from pursuing god or to prevent them from fulfilling their divine destiny. In his revised and updated book, which includes testimonials, Lee Grady boldly proclaims the truth of the gospel: that men and women are appointed by god and empowered by Him. In 10 Lies the Church Tells Women, readers will discover: Why Jesus went out of His way to minister to and disciple women. Why so many Christian women suffer abusive marriages, and why many pastors don't do anything about the problem. How "the Proverbs 31 woman" has been misinterpreted to deny women opportunities in the workplace. Let My Handmaid Speak - Jeraldine T. Posey, D.Min. 2011-10-14 The debate over women preachers has raged for centuries, but the argument has not been—and probably will not be—resolved. This book is not an addendum to that dispute. It is, however, an attempt to show some of the difficulties lady ministers have overcome to answer God's call to proclaim His Word. The International Pentecostal Holiness Church, from its inception, has recognized women by admitting them to pulpits and allowing them to pastor churches. Lady ministers have also served successfully as evangelists and missionaries. However, the leadership of the denomination at a Solemn Assembly in 1996 acknowledged that the church had withheld from women places of honor and desired to release them to serve in leadership roles. Historically, women have gained ground only to lose it again, and even in our twenty-first century society, some still refuse to let God's handmaids speak. The Religious Herald - 1921

Christian Churches and Nigeria's Political Economy of Oil and Conflict - Nkem Emerald Osuigwe 2014-09-18

The received account on African evangelical Christianity regarding social witness in a section of Western scholarship is that it is anti-development and a-political. Such an account heavily draws from an instrumentalist and functionalist assessment of such Christianity without recourse to its emic perspective. Using the case-study method, this book presents an ethnographic examination of this functionalist reading by investigating, describing and analysing evangelical Christian theological and socio-political consciousness within the context of oil and conflict in Nigeria's Niger Delta region. Adopting approaches from practical theology, congregational studies, and anthropology of religion, the author challenges such a reading using data gathered from three congregations in the region. His discourse revolves around answers to the following four critical questions: • What are the underlying theological issues and beliefs of Nigerian evangelical Christians within the context of oil and conflict? • What is their prevalent praxis within the context of Nigeria's political economy of oil and conflict? • How accurate is the received account that African evangelical and 'fundamentalist' Christianity lacks social responsibility and is a-political and anti-development? • What would a contextual political theology for

Nigeria's political economy of oil look like? The theological issues are varied and the prevalent praxis nuanced, which then serves as a veritable critique of the claim that African evangelical Christianity lacks social responsibility due to its preoccupation with soul-winning. Whereas such Christianity places much emphasis on the winning of souls as an expression of its spirituality, it is neither oblivious nor indifferent to its socio-political milieu. Rather it sees such spirituality as a form of political praxis. Some of the trajectories of the spirituality include a theology of conversion, a theology of prayer, and an ethics of crude oil, with Total Freedom as the nomenclature for the specific theological perspective offered for Nigeria's political economy of oil. While locating this theological perspective within the taxonomy of Liberation Theology, the affinity and dissonance between the two are identified.

The F.A.I.T.H. of Modern-Day Christianity
- Dr. Dale I. Morgan
2016-12-31

Throughout the past century or so, I have seen a decline in the true worship of our lord and savior, Jesus Christ. Say what you want, but if Christianity had been done the way Paul and the other apostles did, things might be different in the world today. This book takes a critical, yet constructive look at the church and Christianity as a whole.

The Human Mosaic - Terry G. Jordan-Bychkov 2005-08-19

Carrying forward the legacy of original author Terry Jordan-Bychkov, Mona Domosh and new coauthors Roderick Neumann and Patricia Price offer this thoroughly updated new edition of the acclaimed introduction to the cultural geography of the world today. The result is a text that maintains its original distinctive style while addressing contemporary issues and situations that students care about, most importantly, the continuing phenomenon of globalization. The Thematic Approach of The Human Mosaic The Human Mosaic introduces five themes in the opening chapter--culture region, cultural diffusion, cultural ecology, cultural interaction, and cultural landscape-- then uses those themes as a framework for the topical chapters that follow. Each theme is applied to a variety of geographical topics: demography, agriculture, the city, religion, language, ethnicity, politics, industry, folk and popular culture. Through this organization, students are able to relate to the most important aspects of cultural geography at every point in the text.

Re-Views by an Evangelical Biblical Critic - Robert H. Gundry 2022-10-13
Review essays feature analysis and elaboration--what scholars call "criticism"--largely missing from ordinary book and movie reviews. The present book contains review essays that have appeared in a variety of publications and remain relevant for contemporary "thinking Christians." The essays include critiques of written works by popular thinkers such as N. T. Wright, Bart Ehrman, Reza Aslan, Christian Smith, and Frederic Raphael, films by directors Mel Gibson and Ingmar Bergman, a recent biography of F. F. Bruce, and more. The hyphen in "Re-Views" links the newness of republication with the analytical character of the essays. They start with those dealing with the biblical text and its translation, proceed to some higher critical issues, graduate to literary portraits of Jesus, discuss the relation between the Bible and tradition, and conclude with some biographical portrayals of people associated with Scripture and its interpretation.

A Field Guide for Genuine Community - Ben Connelly 2021-07-06

I'm surrounded by people at church . . . so why do I feel so alone? You show up at church every Sunday. You see people you know. You listen to a sermon together. And then you go home feeling just as isolated as you did before. What's going on? We all know that a church is supposed to be a community. The trick is to actually make it one. Communities don't happen by chance--certainly not in our Lone Ranger culture that values independence and individualism. A truly Christian community must be built by intentional practices that allow for deeper connections, centered on the unity that can only be found in Christ. In A Field Guide for Genuine Community, longtime pastor and discipleship trainer Ben Connelly shows you that the biblical model for community is the family of God. In twenty-five short, practical readings, he takes you beyond the surface and helps you learn to connect with your brothers and sisters as true family members. The church isn't meant to be a collection of strangers. God intends for you to find a unified and purposeful household where you truly belong.

You Are Already Clean - Noyo Anthonia Kubeyinje-
Edem 2012

A believer that does not know what the Word says will be ineffective in the Lord's vineyard because this believer cannot grow spiritually by being ignorant of the Word of God. The Word reveals the great promises God has for His children and it also motivates and empowers us to be victorious Christians here on earth. God has already given us everything we need to succeed in this world, and we will be ignorant of the potentials we have in us to live righteous lives if we do not study the Word and strive to emulate the examples of Jesus Christ and those faithful saints that laid the foundation for our faith in God. This book will motivate and empower the reader to read the Bible every day; to depend on God, to pray and also to strive to live above temptation and sin. God is holy and anyone that truly desires to serve God must be holy unto Him. "As a Christian and a Journalist, I have tremendous respect for Mrs. Noyo Anthonia Kubeyinje-Edem's knowledge of the Word of God. Mama Africa - Gwen Willis 2021-08-06

Mama Africa gets an audience with the King. Have you ever desired to bow in the presence before the King of all kings and share it all with him? Growing up in a Christian home and church, I was taught the power that comes from an honest, fervent prayer. Prayer can be sometimes a simple moment in our day that we might just stop and whisper a concern to God. Prayer can be even more powerful when matched up with fasting; God hears us. He answers prayers. It started with a little prayer at a desperate period of my life. The book Mama Africa revisits a twenty-year span of my life. I talk about my childhood because it's what shapes and molds you into the person that you are today. This book tells my journey from the struggle of singleness, a single parent, a woman in the workforce to marriage life and then divorce, learning the conflicts that come with crossing the boundaries in cultures when marrying. Being a good-hearted person does not create the relationship or fellowship God is seeking with us as individuals. I tell my story of how God continues to favor me in spite of my failure to place him as the first priority. He required obedience as he continued to honor me and started the process of steering me back into his protective arms of love and grace. He lavished me with his unconditional love while sheltering me from the consequences of bad decisions, the pain of separation followed by divorce. He made his presence known as he constructed his compassion toward me making my heartfelt desires his biggest concern. What a great God we serve! I call this journey "my modern-day Hosea story." Lord, teach me to love my husband.
