Emotionen - Wolfgang Rost 2006-03-14

Der sensationelle Erfolg der 1. Auflage hat bewiesen, dass es DAS unterhaltsame Psychologielehrbuch gibt! In der Neuauflage gelingt es dem Autor erneut, in überzeugender Weise Emotionen zu definieren, ergründen und entwickeln zu lassen. Peppig geschrieben und reich bebildert, entbehrt das Buch dennoch nicht wissenschaftlicher Grundlagen. Rost schreibt über alles, was Menschen je bewegt hat und bewegen wird: Bindungsgefühl, Sexualität, Aggressivität, Scham, Schuld, Angst, Trauer, Sinnenfreude, Entspannung, Neugierde und vieles mehr. Und das in einem Stil, der witzig, ironisch, manchmal deftig und provokativ, aber nie langweilig ist. Das Blättern in diesem Buch macht einfach Spaß!

Music, the Brain, and Ecstasy - R Jourdain 1997

What makes a distant oboe's wail beautiful? Why do some kinds of music lift us to ecstasy, but not others? How can music make sense to an ear and brain evolved for detecting the approaching lion or tracking the unsuspecting gazelle? Lyrically interweaving discoveries from science, psychology, music theory, paleontology, and philosophy, Robert Jourdian brilliantly examines why music speaks to us in ways that words cannot, and why we form such powerful connections to it. In clear, understandable language, Jourdian expertly guides the reader through a continuum of musical experience: sound, tone, melody, harmony, rhythm, composition, performance, listening, understanding--and finally to ecstasy. Along the way, a fascinating cast of characters brings Jourdian's narrative to vivid life: "idiots savants" who absorb whole pieces on a single hearing, composers who hallucinate entire compositions, a psychic who claims to take dictation from long-dead composers, and victims of brain damage who can move only when they hear music. Here is a book that will entertain, inform, and stimulate everyone who loves music--and make them think about their favorite song in startling new ways. What makes a distant oboe so beautiful? The Fender Archives - Tom Wheeler 2014

(Book). Welcome to The Fender Archives part history, part archive, part scrapbook, and part treasure chest. You are invited along on a research expedition, a sort of archeological dig through several sites: file folders in Fender's offices; the family archives of Don Randall; author/curator Richard Smith's collections; the photo galleries of John Peden and Fretted Americana; jammed metal cabinets in a sweltering warehouse near the Corona factory; and the home of the late Bob Perine in Cardiff-by-the-Sea, just blocks from the beach where he and Ned Jacoby took now-iconic photos of high school kids, surfboards, palm trees, and chrome-clad rocket-ship guitars in Shoreline Gold and Daphne Blue and Candy Apple Red. The Fender Archives looks at the company from the inside. Handwritten letters, production totals, personal logbooks, in-house memos, Leo Fender's drawing-board sketches, financial reports--such documents are freed here from long confinement in cardboard boxes and filing cabinets, dusted off, and promoted from background to spotlight. The Fender Archives sheds new light on the inspirations for revolutionary instruments and amplifiers, their sometimes difficult births and growing pains, the environment into which they were unleashed upon the world, and the motivations and personalities of key players.
