The Dollar and National Security - Paul Viotti 2014-07-23

Defense establishments and the armed forces they organize, train, equip, and deploy depend upon the security of capital and capital flows, mechanisms that have become increasingly globalized. Military capabilities are thus closely tied not only to the size of the economic base from which they are drawn, but also to the viability of global convertibility and exchange arrangements. Although the general public has a stake in these economic matters, the interests and interpretive understandings held by policy elites matter most—in particular those among the owners or managers of capital who focus on international finance and the international monetary regimes that sustain global commerce and their capital positions. In The Dollar and National Security, Paul Viotti explores the links between global capital flows, these policy elites, and national security. After establishing the historical link between currency, gold, and security, he continues the monetary-security story by examining the instrumental role the dollar has played in American economic and national security over the past seven decades. He reveals how perceived individual and collective interests are the key drivers toward building the kind of durable consensus necessary to sustain the external financing of American foreign and national security policy, and addresses the future implications for national security as decision-makers in the BRICs and other countries position themselves to assume an even larger policy presence in global commercial, monetary, and security matters.

The Princess Pen Course Manual- No Needle Filler - Deborah Jay Kelly 2020-03-25

This is a revolutionary system which allows the insertion of a Dermal Filler without the need for a needle/injection. It is a form of needle free mesotherapy applied using a specialised hand held pen for insertion. A Hylauronic Acid Filler is used in the hand held pen and is inserted into the Epidermis and Superficially into the top of the Dermal Layer depending on the depth of application. HA is naturally occurring in our body and as we age this depletes. With the use of the Pen we can improve and delay the visual effects of ageing. Using 0.5ml to 1ml of HA we can help to smooth out superficial fine lines and wrinkles and add volume to lips. WHY USE THE PRINCESS PEN Many people have a phobia of needles and this may in the past have led them to have drastic cosmetic procedures. Every Patient has a pain threshold and the insertion of Injectable Dermal Filler can be extremely painful. The use of Lidocane, Emla or a Dental Block can be used to control this pain but an injectable HA filler application is always at the least uncomfortable. A Hyaluron Pen application is mostly pain free and the results are instant and can be amazing. This treatment is not new and has been around since 2000 during which time it has been in continued development. Once the treatment is applied the Hylauronic Filler which is liquid becomes pliable and can spread quickly throughout the area. This gives more scope than the traditional method of injecting. It is a much safer way to insert Filler with little if any major side effects such as 'allergic reaction' 'migration' 'blood vessel intrusion' and 'scarring' WHY DO CLIENTS ASK FOR A PRINCESS PEN TREATMENT The popularity of the Princess Pen among clients is primarily due to their benefits, some of which include: Reduction of age-related volume loss on the face, which causes a drooping appearance Reduction of nasolabial folds (The folds that form at the side of the nose and run down towards the side of the lips) Restoration of skin firmness Improvement of skin texture and appearance Reduction of wrinkles and fine lines Enhancement of facial symmetry (Frampton, 2010) Increased definition of the lips SELECTION OF THE PATIENT The most common candidates for princess pen procedures are patients with aging skin. These procedures are usually done to even out wrinkles and static lines (such as marionette lines and nasolabial folds), more so in the lower two-thirds of the patient's face. They can also be carried out to achieve facial contouring and augmentation, as is usually the case for lip enhancement. The practitioners should always set the expectation in the patient that dermal fillers will strictly serve to reduce wrinkles and lines rather than remove them, and while it is possible to achieve slight improvements in contours, but will not produce surgery-like outcomes. Patients who have too many wrinkles, folds, and skin laxity might need surgical procedures for marked improvements. It is important to note that patient who exhibits body dysmorphic disorder, depression, narcissism, or those with impractical or unattainable expectations are not candidates for dermal fillers as these patients are predisposed to unhappiness and dissatisfaction (Ferneck and Bennett 2018). WHAT DOES THE TRAINING COVER? Health & Safety Contra-indications Risk Assessment The History of Dermal Fillers and their uses Using the correct measurements to maximise results Preparation of work area How to 'load' the Princess Filler into the Princess Pen Correct Application Techniques and Result After-Care Advice Related Anatomy & Physiology Other Princess Pen options Marketing and Sales Kit Options (Please enquire) Princess Pen Princess Filler 2ml Practising Filler (saline) Syringe for transferring product Filler Cartridges x 5 Cost Price £300 HOW LONG IS THE COURSE?
